MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director (Plans)

SUBJECT : Reviewing Photo Coverage Requirements in a Static Situation

25X1X4

1. I feel that the current requirement for weekly U-2 coverage [REDACTED] primarily for CINCLANT, has placed the Agency in a very undesirable position with regard to utilization of U-2 assets. In the past, concrete justification was advanced prior to each mission and was the basis on which approval was solicited from "higher authority." The CINCLANT requirement is essentially a surveillance type of mission, each of which has little reference to the information gathered on previous missions. In accepting this [REDACTED] operation, the following compromises ensue:

a. The premise that the U-2 mission is to obtain intelligence data of highest interest to the U.S. Government becomes suspect.

b. The long period of building up confidence since 1 May 1960 may be lost if an aircraft should make an emergency landing, thus creating a reluctance to grant approval for higher priority missions. This type of mission may be considered an undue exposure when compared with higher priority requirements.

c. Service maneuvering in committing the Edwards unit to a long-term project in several places gives justification for DOD U-2 participation in overflights.

d. We will never be able to satisfy a "currency" requirement by repeating missions.

2. In an attempt to get the IDEALIST project off this treadmill, I have requested [REDACTED] to include in his next request for over-flight authority a priority listing of COMOR areas of interest, including the [REDACTED] [REDACTED] should appear on the list in such a position as to once again bring the entire intelligence picture into focus and at the same time re-emphasize the great capability and importance of judicious utilization of U-2 aircraft.

3. We are preparing to fly [REDACTED] request Friday, 9 June, per 5412 Group approval granted 11 May for weekly coverage.
